LONDON, Oct. 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Associated Press is authorized to state that a satisfactory settlement of the Anglo-Russian dispute has been reached. Several details and formalities remain to be arranged, but the proposal to refer the matter to a court of inquiry has been accepted.

The entire dispute was ended when Ambassador Benkendorff was Lord Lansdowns after the Cabinet meeting today. A final inquiry will be held at The Hague under the rules of the Hague convention. The appointment of the arbitrators will be discussed tomorrow between Ambassador Benkenderff and Lord Lansdowne.

The only details which remain to be arranged is the permission of Spain for the portion of the Russian squadron concerned in the North Sea incident to remain at Vigo until the inquiry is completed. This no doubt will be obtained. The remainder of the Russian squadron is expected to proceed to its destination.

It is suggested that the articles of

A fleet animated by this policy would be affect which would have to be eliminated out of existence if civilized commerce was to pursue its way unimpaired. I am glad to think that in this view the Russian government agrees, and has given orders which will prevent a recurrence of the tragedy that has filled our hearts with sorrow and indignation.

Mr. Balfour thought it must be admitted that the Russian government had shown an chilghtened desire that the truth and justice rhould prevail. Only a few hours age, he said, he himself had taken a very gloomy view of the possibility of a satisfactory and reaceful solution. He thought the Car had shown himself an enlightened judge of what was right in the matter as between nation and nation. DOUBLE WORLD TRAGEDY.

The world had its eyes centered upon one great, warlike tragedy in the Far East. It would have been appailing but it was not at one moment impossible, for this great world tragedy to be doubled.

Speaking for the government, Mr. Balfour declared he could say it had done all it could consistently with honor to avert this calamity.

To say the incident was closed and over would be too much, but his audience surely would not think him over-aanguine in hoping the spirit of reason and justice which had brought Great Britian through the most difficult parts of controversy without the calamity of war would still preside over the council of the nations and the greatest of all calamity, that of war between two European nations, would be averted.

"If." said Mr. Balfour, "war could be averted without dishonor, the settlement would reflect nothing but credit upon the ruler of that great empire with which we have been so nearly coming into collision, but with whom it is my earnest hope and sincere belief our good relations will remain undisturbed. I hope I have said nothing which can in the smallest degree impair good relations, and though I have spoken under a heavy sense of responsibility and under considerable difficulty, I do think the events of the iast, few days, though they can never wipe out the tragic occurrence on last Priday, will not bring in their train any of these widespread calamities which at one time we almost feared they would bring with them. I congratulate this country and Russia, Europe and the world upon what I believe will be the result of the lost few days ne-estiations."

Jersey, City Young Woman Has Hip Fractured.

New Line Does Not Affect the Surface Travel.

Underground System for the "Windy City."

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.) NEW YORK. Oct. 28.—The first se-rious accident since the formal opening of the subway occurred today, when a young woman named Sadie Lawson of Jersey City fell between the platform and a local train at the Fourtcenth-street station and was badly crushed. She has a fractured hip and bruises of more or less serious nature, but will is by means of small registers at cliner end of the side of the walls, through which air is carried to retiring rooms. Ventilation and cleanliness will be carefully observed by the experts of the Board of Health. Commissioner Darlington said on the subject: This is a sarge question, and the future will determine how far the tunnel will answer all requirements with the increase of travel. It seems to me that the air was as pure as it would be possible to have in any tunnel, and the conditions are certainly better than they are in any other subway in the world. The air currents which are put in circulation by the quick passage of trains seem to be sufficient. It may be that at some future time, when the number of passengers has increased, it will be made possible to force compressed air into the subway, after the method used in Paris."

NEW SYSTEM IS OUTLINED. [BT THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A comprehensive subway system for Chicago will be started before April, 1906, according to Alderman Mitton J. Foreman, chairman of the Transportation Committee of the City Council. The system as outlined by Foreman in an address at the Real Estate Board banquet will extend as far south as Twelfth street, as far north as Chicago avenue, and as far west as Halsted street. The subway will accommodate through traffic; surface cars will continue to carry local traffic.

The tunnel, if the present plans are carried out, will be divided into four compartments. Two of these will be for railways, the others for such public utilities as heating and retrigerating plants, high-water pressure pipes and electric hangings. The present river tunnels will be utilized in the new system. Alderman Foreman explained, while the cars, after leaving the subways, will be run either on elevated structures or through alleys.

A fund of $2,000,000 is on hard for the beginning of the work, Foreman stated. This sum is sufficient to keep construction work on two years. ion work on two years.

PLAN OF RETIREMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Directors of the Oregon Short Line Railroad, in aession here, have considered formally, a plan of retirement of Oregon Short Line and participating bonds, as announced last Tuesday. Although no official announcement was made, it is stated by the Herald that the proposition to exercise the retirement clause in the mortgage was approved, and that the bonds probably would be retired in February, at the time when the next coupon is payable. In order the retire the bonds on that date it will be necessary to notify the bond-

LUMBER RATE WANTED. POLITICS IN WASHINGTON.

FOLLTICS IN WASHINGTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, Oct. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through the aid of the members of the Washington Legislature, to be elected in ten days, Washington lumbermen expect to be able to induce the Harriman and Hill railroad systems to grant them a 48-cent lumber rate to the Missouri River. The Pacific Lumber Manufacturers' Association has written pledges, signed by both Republican and Democratic candidates for Governor, together with 183 out of 215 candidates for the Legislature, pledging themselves to aid the lumbermen in every possible way in securing a 48-cent rate.

The Legislature Committee of the Lumber Manufacturers' Association agure that they will have at least 180 out of 135 votes in the Legislature. If no other way is found, the Legislature will be asked to pass a bill creating a State Railroad Commission, which both Hill and Harriman lines have successfully opposed for years. Their opposition has prevented the creation of such commissions by past Legislatures.

Portland, Or., was selected as the next place of meeting of the congress. Just before the congress adjourned sine die a resolution was adopted providing that all papers provided for in the programme which had not been read be included in the minutes of the convention. Included in this provision was an address by Charles Arthur of Portland, Or.

The address of Charles J. Bonaparte, which was also included in the minutes, states, in part, as follows:

DUTY TO THE INDIAN.

"The American nation owes to its find it hard to understand, or, at least, to admit, that, while all men should be always and everywhere treated with justice and humanity, what is justice, what are the dictates of humanity, must and will differ, and differ very widely, as we deal with men of different conditions and capabilities; that what to one may be meat to another may be poison; that identity of treatment may involve beneficence to one class and the most cruel neglect or oppression to another. Our popular idea of justice is essentially to give everyone a fair field but no flavor: to throw all into the same pool together, and let each one float or sink according to his ability to swim. This is justice for white men living and contending with other white nen; it is grave injustice for Indians, especially when these are forced to five and contend with white men.

"The 'safety and happiness' of these 'rightful owners' are in our keeping as a nation; they cannot protect them. Moreover, we, not they, are responsible for the dangers immediately threatening their safety and happiness.

There is no field in which seal needs more urgently to be coupled with hanowledge and tempered with discretion than in criticism of Indian affairs. Dependent and helpless people are, by a law of nature, at once credulous and suspicious; talk on the part of those stronger than themselves, which might otherwise be merely untimely or injudicious, when overheard by them, may readily become harmful and even dangerous.

"And this is the more likely to happen if, as is too often the case, the talk in question is more or less fiercely denunciatory of those-ins-positions of responsibility. I do not think I am overcharitable to official sins, but the investigation I conducted last winter has left me convinced that our President and our Secretary of the Interior are unselfish friends of the Interior of the Interior

600 hotel erected on the crown of the ciminence, if plans of the Signal Hill Improvement Company, now nearing completion are carried out. The surveys for the railroad have been completed, and assurance is given that actual construction will begin in three weeks and finished in the middle of January next.

The company promoting the Signal Hill enterprise is composed of Long Beach men. G. W. Hughes is president and F. A. Crowe, secretary. They control 125 acres on the hill, five of which have been reserved for the fine tourist hotel which it is said will be built. The remainder of the tract is to be platted for home sites and improved by the building of picturesquely winding streets, planted to suitable trees and flowers.

Signal Hill is 364 feet fligh, and the railroad line has been so planned as to take advantage of all the scenic features of the rugged, ravine-seamed ascent, winding about the slopes, alternately commanding the sweep of the sea, with Catalina in the distance and the coast resorts plainly visble, and the outlook over the valley into Los Angeles and Pasadena. The scenc road will connect below the hill with the Huntington Beach Short Line.

and the position she held at Portage abolished, and no appointment to the vacancy made.

"It appears clear," says Mr. Loeb's letter, "that you were keeping your daughter in the postal service simply for the sake of giving her the salary, and that when she did not occupy the position it was not deemed necessary to fill it at all, and you actually called the attention of the postmaster at Portage to this fact in order to induce him to retain your daughter, pointing out to him that, as actually happened, he would lose the appropriation for the position unless he acted as you desired.

"On April 8 of the same year you wrote to the postmaster at Ware, Mass., requesting that he appoint one Cora Watson as a clerk in his office, on condition that he was provided with an allowance to pay her salary. In this letter you, the law official of the Postoffice Department, deliberately instructed the postmaster to violate the law by appointing Cora Watson in the Ware postoffice, where her services were not needed. The furtiveness of your action is shown by this statement in your letter to the postmaster:

"You can do as you wish about giving out the impression that she is there as a representative of the postoffice to assist in the establishment of free delivery. It is only frank, however, to kay that she is not a postoffice expert." "It was not a bona fide appointment, but one designed improperly to get Miss Watson in the classified service. When the postmaster objected, you assumed an offended tone in your letter to him on April 14, asking him why he wished so much 'ceremony' and why he was 'timid' in the matter, assuring him that the appointment was proper and correct and warranted by law because you were the law adviser not only of the Postoffice Department, but of the entire postal service, and yet you could not possibly have been ignorant that the transaction of your guilt on the criminal charge on which you were tried having been passed upon by a jury, the President, of course, acquiesces in its findings; but the evidenc

Tyner tonight issued a statement to the public in which he affirmed that the President had misstated facts in the letter made public today. He declared the statement that he had favored Barrett's clients was untrue, and that the records showed that in about twenty instances where Barrett had presented plans of business for ruling they were in most cases passed on by Tyner's assistant and subsequently approved by the Attorney-General.

The allegration that his wife had committed a burglary at the Postoffice Department, Tyner said was "as turmanly as it was unjustified." Mrs. Tyner's visit, he said, was in office hours, and was perfectly open, and the took nothing from the safe except his private papers and a batch of semi-ficial papers which he returned at the cand also sent the private papers to the Postoffice Department for examination, sithough they consisted of nothing except letters and gifts to his wife. He denounced as indefensible the suggestion that some incriminating papers were in the safe.

Tyner closes his statement by saying: "The President has not seen fit to do right, to give a "quare deal." It is to his detriment, not mine."

The acts for which Tyner was placed on trial were alleged to have taken place while he was Assistant Attorney-General investigation, he was removed in April, 1902, following the taking of papers from the safe in that office by his wife. Tyner twice held the office of Assistant Attorney-General and Postmaster-General under Gen. Grant.

At the State Department, it is stated that the leader of the band supposed to have murdeced Labare has been arrested. The Persian government is acting with a dilatoriness not to the liking of the Washington of ricials, and Dr. Norton will be instructed to state the disastisfaction of this

NATIONAL BOARD OF TRADE.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Plans are being prepared for the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the National Board of Trade, to be held at Washington, commencing January 17, 1905. Secretary Tucker has issued circulars asking constituent bodies to prepare their reports and select delegates to the national meeting without delay.

Among other matters of importance to come before the board will be a request to have the powers of the Interstate Commerce Commission specified, so that there can be no question as to their decisions in matters relating to commerce.

Improvements in inland navigation also will be recommended, through requests which will be submitted asking the board to favor work on the many inland streams of the country, so that heavy cargoes can be brought down to the Ohio and other tributaries of the Mississippi, thus giving the dealer the benefit of competition in rates between the railroads and stermboats.

STORM IN FRENCH CHAMBER. STORM IN FRENCH CHAMBER.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—After an exceedingly stormy debate in the Chamber of Deputies the government tonight escaped defeat by four votes only and rumors are already current that Gen.
Andre, Minister of War, whose administration was the subject of the discussion, contemplates resigning. For some time Gen. Andre has been the object of violent attacks in the press, the principal charges against him being favoring officers whose politics coincided with the government's, stopping the promotion of those suspected of clerical or conservative tendencies, organising an elaborate system of spying in the private lives of officers and encouraging officers to act as informers.

NEVER APPEARED INSANE. NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Sterling Postley, for years the schoolmate and intimate friend of Bertha M. Dolbeer, the young California woman who committed suicide at the Waldorf-Astoria last January, was the only witnesses at the hearing today on the will of Miss Dolbeer. Mrs. Postley is a resident of California. She declared that with the exception of the time Miss Dolbeer was in Europe she had been ber intimate friend and companion and that Miss Dolbeer had never shown any signs of being insane.

The settlement around the seminary has been named Hermon. The view from the cars as they speed along Pasadema avenue is one of great natural beauty, and with a few years of growth it will unquestionably become one of the most attractive spots in the neighborhood of the city.

Formal dedication of the seminary has brought here several prominent members of that denomination. Rev. G. W. Griffith of the California Conference, and president of the board of trustees, was here from Alameda, and spoke in behalf of the northern conference; Prof. J. K. Freeland of Pasadema spoke in behalf of other schools of the same church; Rev. M. N. Downing, district presiding elder; spoke for the general church; Prof. N. J. Davia, principal of the seminary, gave an address on "Christian Education;" Rev. J. Wiley Phillips, editor of the California Voice, and Rev. E. Leonardson of Santa Ana, each made short addresses. Ralph Rogers, who donated the college site, gave encouraging words to the institution.

J. G. Baird made the financial statement, which showed that there are resources to cover all liabilities, and a fund of at least 500e left for the starting of an endowment fund.

The seminary has a registration of eighty-eight students, and of these thirty-five are members of the starting of an endowment fund.

The seminary has a registration of eighty-eight students, and of these thirty-five are members of the institution. The property and buildings are estimated to be worth $40,000.

The seminary starts with Rev. New-dell, preceptress; Rev. Trugett C. Wendell, preceptor; Prof. Clark W. Hay, science; Miss Ada V. Sellew, English and Latin; Miss Frances English, instory and interature; Mrs. Edith C. Wendell, primary department; M. Kenneth Crowford, music.

LITTLE CHURCHES LEAD.
Dr. John Dixon of New York, the nergetic secretary of the Presbyterian bard of Home Missions, speaking ith long service behind him, said ast night at the session of the Bible conference in Immanuel Presbyterian hurch:

With other incomparable features of The Sc

Gray, Rev. Warren C. Sherman and Rev. H. W. Glichrist.

Today promises an interesting programme. The morning will be taken up by the discussion of methods of study, in which Rev. A. B. Prichard and others will deliver addresses. The afternoon will present two notable addresses by Rev. Howard W. Pope and Dr. Gray, the latter of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, and the former of the Northfield School.

Sunday will be observed by the conference in recognition of the importance of the Louisiana Pughase and the opening of the great Northwest to home missionary effort, in accordance with the recommendation of the General Assembly. Dr. Gray will preach in Immanuel Church in the morning and in the Second Church, in East Los Angeles, in the evening. Dr. Dixon will preach in the First Church in the morning, and will conduct a union service in the interest of home missions in Immanuel Church in the evening. Rev. W. C. Sherman will preach in Central Church in the morning and in the Boyle Heights Church in the evening.

A police officer being summoned, "Huber" became wise just in time and shot out of the front door in the early morning hours like a stone from a catapuit, with the outstretched arm of the law perilously near his coat-tails. A passing our, however, afforded him a means of escape, and he disappeared utterly into the night.

All the parties concerned carefully hushed up the story, in the hope that slience might lend to quicker capture of the culprit, and for other reasons. It became known for the first time yesterday, and even then the hostelry would neither affirm nor demy anything beyond admitting the presence of such a person in their house on the evening in question, and giving a description of him. Proprietor Loomis, who took the strenuous measures for his guest's detention into his own hands, was away for the evening and could not be seen. "Huber" is desgribed as a min of gentlemanly appearance and middle age, wearing clothing of the latest style and goods-pattern. In no sense, says the clerks at the Angelus, does he resemble a thief or professional crook. Does the Mesors.

The office of J. V. Baldwin, 207 Conservative Life Bidg., 3rd and Hill Sts., will be open all day Sunday, where all who wish may obtain free tickets to Willowbrook.

Go out today or tomorrow, anytime. Agents ground to show you the property. Several a went out last Sunday. Go tomorrow. :: ::

On the Long Beach Line

Willowbrook is beautifully situated on the Long Beach Electric line, seventeen minutes ride from Sixth and Main streets. Cars every few minutes. The time isn't far off when the Long Beach line will be a four-track system with cars every three or four minutes. Midway between mountains and seafresh air and beautiful view all the time.

Abundance of Water

The water is supplied by an artesian well, Willowbrook being right in the heart of the water-bearing land. Water is clear, sparkling and pure—no alkali, and nothing brackish about it. The pumping plant is owned by the Willowbrook Company and becomes the property of property owners, each one getting shares of water stock according to value of property. This spats you nothing extra.

Streets in Fine Shape

The streets are all full sixty feet wide, graded and olled according to city specifications. No charge for street work; no dust; no street sprinkling. This work has all been done by the Willowbrook Company at big expense, to make this a fine place for country homes.

The Lay of the Land

Every lot is level as a board—well elevated, so there is no alkali. All the lots are now planted to alfalfa, which cuts six crops a year, proving the richness of the soil. You can raise anything at Willowbrook—fruits, flowers, berries, vegetables; there is no more fertile ground in California, no matter where you go. A fine proposition for chicken raising, dairying or truck-farming.

J. V. Baldwin

F. W. Flint, Jr.

With a grand view of the mountains on one side and freshing sea breeze blowing up from the opposite of Willowbrook is an ideal spot for a country home. Closcity—only seventeen minutes ride. Cars every few from early morning to midnight. The busy man who to get away from the cares of city life will find this a cent location.

Colombia and Panama when they were ignorant of all the surrounding facts, now calmly and logically commend his attitude and position.

In Panama men, regardless of former political affiliations, are unanimous in declaring that, if the President had pursued any other method than he did, civil war would have broken out, great loss of property and life would have resulted, and traffic across the isthmus would have been permanently interrupted in direct negation of the treaty of the United States with Colombia. No impartial student of facts, who has investigated the entire case, taking into consideration practical conditions as well as theoretical conceptions, can do other than commend the President's Panama policy. It is easy enough for the members of the so-called Democratic Constitutional Club in New York in the theoretical atmosphere of their, legal offices to frame technical criticisms of the President's acts, but if they had been face to face with the actual management of the crisis last November, and if they had to execute policies instead of to sit in easy chairs and condemn them, they would be today espousing the President's methods and attitude. The entire record of the President in the Panama affair is open and clear as a book, and if anyone who is skeptical, after perusing this record, will simply take a calm, fair view of the practical developments and possibilities on the istimus and in Colombia at the time, he will admit, even against his will, that the President was right. The more I have personally investigated the situation, the more convinced am I that the President took the only course that was open to him consistent with the honor of the United States and with Justice to Panama and Colombia allike.

The Democratic party would almost seem to be a party of inaction, interference, and hind-sight. It is destructive, not constructive. It holds the sixpetice of selfish prejudice so near its eye that is cannot see the great work on the mighty canal which is to connect the Atlantic and the Pacific has oceans, because the work is to be largely in the hands of shat eminent and successful engineer, John Findlay Wallace. When in future years, through his efforts, the manufactures and the exports of the Central West shall be passing through the Panama Canal en route to a thousand new markets, then every Democrat' who now

New Officers.

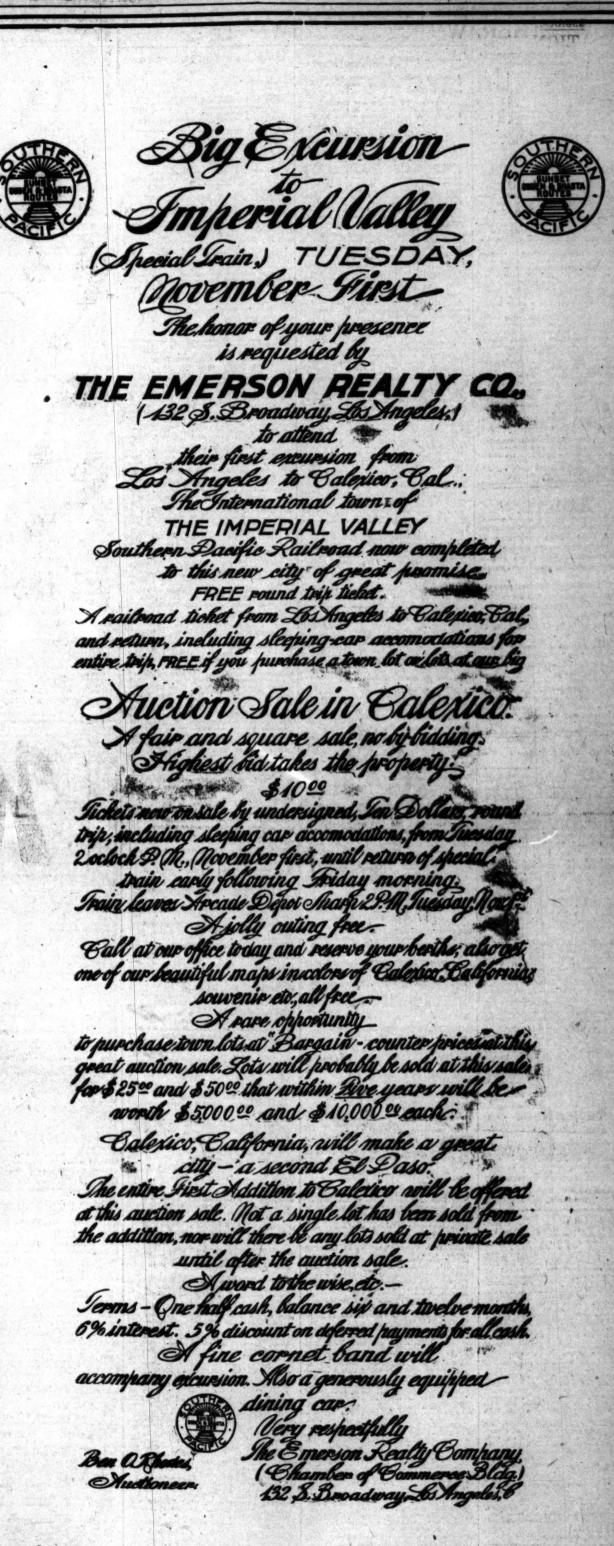

The Thirty-ninth-street School Child Study Circle had an annual election of efficers last Wednesday afternoon, a large number of members and friends being present at the meeting. The officers elected are: Mrs. A. E. Gwynn, president; Mrs. L. Morrill, vice-president; Mrs. P. J. Wilson, secretary, and Mrs. E. D. Rivers, treasurer.

An interesting address was given to the circle by Mrs. Lawrence on the subject of "Nature Study and the Effect on Child Life." A delightful musical programme was given by Misses Mester, Gertrude Mester, Ruth Thack-leton and Leona Hastings, after which dainty refreshments were served.

ISPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]
VENTURA, Oct. 28.—The Sheriff is icoking for a man wearing tennis shoes and with a penchant for pilfering early in the morning. This morning no less than five residences in the fashionable quarter of town were entered by such a party without knocking. He ignored all loot excepting money, and because the owners of the houses had most of their money in bank the thief got little. In the residence of J. F. McIntyre he got a few dollars out of the bee king's pocket; the residence of L. D. Fowler, that of District Attorney Selby, of Earl Barnes, and also that of Willis Leach were entered. At the latter place a small sum was taken. The thief got 45 or 8 altogether. About each house were footsteps which showed the thief wore tennis shoes.

the first president of the Grand Parlor of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, were impressive. The obsequies were under the auspices of the local parlor of Native Daughters, who had made extensive arrangements. At the Methodist Church impressive services were also held, which were largely attended by the public. There was a half holiday in the grammar schools and the school flags were at half mast. The body was taken his morning to Jackson, Amador county, the former home, where the Native Daughters will again take it in charge for final disposition. Accompanying the remains to the north were Prof. Aitken of Lick Observatory, brother of deceased, and her daughter, Miss Wilhelmina Kane. Mrs. Cors B. CITRUS MOVEMENT. The rall-roads moved one carload of oranges and five carloads of lemons on Thurs-day, making the total to date 27,879 carloads, of which 2878 were lemons.

GROCERY TRADE. Fancy head tices are hard to get and are selling high. Japan grades are slow in coming to market. New raisins are coming freely and prove to be good quality in most cases, when examined. Shredded coconnut extremely hard to obtain and has a good demand at present.

coal and colors are associately unable to help them.

Coal and conters testify to the gradual expansion of business. Household sizes of anthracite go into consumption freely, as is to be expected at this season, and reports from the fields indicate that full time is the rule at the collieries. Retail distribution is proceeding on a liberal scale, and dealers are seeking cargoes continually. It is being constantly emphasised that the exceptionally severe weather last winter curtailed stocks abnormally just as they were getting back to normal after the demoralisation of the big strike. A mild seasen this year would facilitate the return of ample stocks. Soft coal responds to the re-umption of many mills, furnaces and manufacturing plants of all kinds, and miners at the South are gradually returning to work. It is believed that the strike will pass away without siny formal settlement. A smaller output of coke was due to inadequate water supply, but no lack of inquiry. The ovens could contract for much of their output next year if they wished, but prices are not satisfactory.—[Dun's Review.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS. sal Suffrage Club.

At the meeting of the Pourth Ward Equal Suffrage Club held Thursday at the home of Dr. Anna J. Phillips at No. 912 South Figueroa street, there was a roll call at which the members responded with quotations containing something pertaining to the chivalry of man.

Fire at Hermon.

The general merchandise store and postoffice at Hermon, the Free Methodist settlement lying to the eastward of Highland Park, across the Arroyo Seco, were destroyed by fire on Wednesday evening shortly after the building was closed for the night. There was only light insurance, and the loss over this amount is about 350. The Hermon postoffice is now located in the postmaster's residence. The store was the property of William Whitlock, and the postmaster is W. A. Bigelow.

Woman in Hot Water.

Mrs. E. 21. Patterson was arrested by Postoffice Inspector Coyne yesterday and released again after a friend and paid b k the coin that Mrs. Patterson had iradulchtly secured on a postal money order. The woman was charged with forging the name of Mrs. Emma Patterson of No. 33 North Hill street to a money order for 116.35 sent from Kansas City, and obtaining the money. The Mrs. Patterson who thus cheated the other Mrs. Patterson who thus cheated the other Mrs. Patterson out of $16.35 was located by a tracer sent out from Kansas City.

The Pederal grand jury yesterday eturned an indictment against James B. Mathiason, the man who was shot it Ocean Park recently, while trying o escape after taving been arrested or passing raised bills. There are six rounts against him.

Whit Miller was also indicted for shooting up country mail boxes in the vicinity of Santa Ana, and soon fiter plead guilty in court. He was med 3100 and ordered confined in the County Jail until the fine is paid. He sent to jail. Paul Jones was considered before Judge Wellborn of the charge of passing a forged money order and was fined $500, which he paid.

John Teifer, a celebrated mining engineer and expert from the gold fields of Australia and latterly from the gold coast of Sputh Africa, is staying temporarily at Chremont. He was in the city yesterday, and spoke of conditions in the countries which he has ust left. He was for many years losely identified with the mining affairs of Ballarat and Bendigo districts of Victoria, N. S. W., whence he took up his residence in West African gold helds. Having contracted malarial lever in that country he was advised to come to America, and chose Southern California. Telfer is astonished at the marvelous advancement in building which he sees on every hand in his country. He will identify himself with mining affairs in California as woon as "the gets his hearing." A TOMOBILIST'S HEARTLESS ACT.

LEAVES CRUSHED WOMAN LYING IN STREET.

Unavailing Search by Police for Man Who Hurled Sarcastic Words at the Victim of His Machine, Which He Drove Over the Unfor-tunate in the Dark.

"Hope you'll learn to keep out of the way in future," were the words yelled back at Mrs. F. Francisco of No. 848 Wall street at 8:45 o'clock last night when a reckless automobilist ran over her and continued down the street without even looking back.

Mrs. Francisco was crossing Wall street at Twelfth, when, she says, an automobile flashed out of the darkness and knocked her down before she realized what had happened. She was severely bruised, and sustained internat injuries which may prove serious. Unaided, Mrs. Francisco crawled to the sidewalk, where she fainted.

Theo Herberger of No. 1154 Wall street discovered the unconscious woman, and removed her to his residence, where a physician was summoned. Laet last night Mrs. Francisco's condition was reported critical. The police were notified, and a search for the auto owner was made, but as the number of the machine could not be ascertained, there is small chance of locating the guilty man.

No unfriendliness was meant.

When the convention met in the morning, it reminded an idle spectator most amusingly of the manner in which the lady of the house calls hubby out before dinner and tells him on no account to ask anyone to have more pudding because Bridget burned half of it.

When the nomination speeches were over, there were cries for Butler. In a little space, a dignified well-dressed man came down the aisle amid a storm of yells; looked for a moment for a way to the platform, then stepped forward to face the great crowd in whose mercy he was.

Butler gained support by his dig-nity and composure.

He was like a boy making his first call on a girl, in mortal agony to break away and go home and not knowing how, staying and staying and staying until papa can be heard moving, ominously on the stairs.

It had been decribed not to hear from candidates at all. The chairman reminded McAleer of this. He heard it in a daze; stared out over the crowd and began the speech he had prepared.

"No, no!" they yelled. "Contrary to rule." "No speaking."

"An right boys," he muttered almost frightened. And then went right on with the speech, stuttering and stammering until the chairman almost had to throw him off. He looked grateful for being stopped almost by brute force.

Mr. Butler spoke but a graceful word, confessing that he knew nothing about speechmaking.

The scene of those long lines of voters going to the ballot boxes; the droning tellers; the air of tense excitement—all are impressions that will remain long with those who were there yesterday.

At last a man who had been looking over a teller's shoulder, turned with a face flushed to wave his hand and give a little yell. They thought it was for McAleer, but were not sure.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

The jury failed to agree in the Ocean Park poker case yesterday.

The grand jury is investigating a case in which two young attorneys are concerned, and in which there is a suspicion that the will of H. de Amarzet was changed after his death.

An extraordinary scene was enacted yesterday in the Heart murder that, when Attorney Ladd of defending counsel addressed the jury sitting down and with a teapot by his side.

TWO LAWYERS UNDER INQUIRY.

GRAND JURY INVESTIGATING A CERTAIN WILL.

Provisio in Instrument Suspected of Having Been Inserted After the Death of the Testator, H. De Amar-zet, a Local Teacher of Languages,

Among other subjects inquired into by the grand jury within the last day or two is one that has a curious interest, but that will likely not result in any action, inasmuch as it is reasonably certain that no ill was intended by the parties to the transaction.

A short time ago H. de Amarzet, an old resident of the city and highly esteemed as a clisten and a teacher of languages, died, leaving property. He left a will, which had been drafted by George S. Hupp, at that time in partnership with Hugh W. Adams. Both are young members of the bar. A little conversation which took place between these young lawyers before they dissolved partnership, two or faree weeks ago, must have reached the ears of one of the grand jurors, for during the past few days that body has been investigating, and one member of the old firm of Hupp & Adams, as well as several of the friends of the deceased teacher of languages, have been examined at length.

It appears that when De Amarzet realized he couldn't live much longer, he teacher of languages, have been examined at length.

It appears that when De Amarzet realized he couldn't live much longer, he sent for Hupp. The patient was 64 years of age, and was confined to his home. He explained to Hupp that he owned only two or three lots, worth about $700 or $500, mort, caged up to within a few hundred dollars of their value. Mrs. Last, wife of Gen. C. F. A. Last, held the more age, and he told his attorney that he wanted to make over this real estate to Mrs. Last by will, and save trouble.

Attorney Hupp followed the instructions of De Amarzet to the letter, but in discussing the case with his partiner. Adams remarked that the old man had a wife and children in France, and that he thought it was doubtful if the will would stand, inamuch as she and the children had not been specifically omitted from the document. De Amarzet was dash, and the conversation faded from the mind of Adams until this grant jury investigation recalled it.

The will that was filed for probate.

ument. De Amarset was dash, and the conversation faded from the mind of Adams until this gran! jury investigation recalled it.

The will that was filed for probate, while along the lines indicated, contained the words "I omit wife and children," written in a rather crowded space, when on the sheet beuring it was pienty of space to spare. The supposition was reached that the quoted words must have been inserted in the instrument after De Amarset was dead, and that is what the grand jury is now trying to find out.

What makes it seem as if Hupp had taken the advice of his then partner. Adams, is that Adams in alluding to the possibility of Mrs. Last not being able to get the property, quoted the will supposed to have been inserted unlawfully after De Amarzet's death also fall into identically the same error. The law of this Shate provides that a child may not be disinherited save by specific medition, but this does not hold good with regard to a wife. Nevertheless Adams spoke of the "wife and children," and the words in the will cover exactly the same ground.

The examination by, the grand Jury is not completed, but even if it can be shown that the interpolation was made after the death of De Amarzet, it is not probable that the matter will be pressed. There is, no doubt but that De Amarzet intended and wished Mrs. Last to get his property, probably to save the trouble and expense of foreson left Gen, Last as executor without bonds. That being so, the interpolation "--- by whoever it may have been made was merely perfecting what ought to have been made after death. It was a technical forgery, but its effect would not be to overturn the wishes of the decased, but rather to more certhinly assure that his wishes be carried out.

claimed the company converted the stock to its own use. BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

GREEN MURDER TRIAL. The trial of Bud and Jim Green for the killing of Will Smith on July 28, will be begun today in Judge Smith's court. Smith was the man whose heart was penetrated and upon whom a radical operation was performed at the Receiving Hospital. The heart was sewed up and for a time Smith railled, but succumbed August 4.

DUO OF DIVORCES. George M. Ward was divorced by Judge Correy yesterday from Gertrude Ward. on the ground of cruelty. The parties were married at South Bend. Ind., in July, 1901, but the wife persisted in associating with improper persons and separation followed. In Judge Allen's court Mrs. Maggie Gilly, was divorced from W. Gilly. also on the ground of cruelty, but of a different kind.

WANTS CUSTODY. E. A. Willard has begun suit against Alice M. Willard for the custody of their son, Hugh, two and a half years old. The parents were married at Indianapolis in Deb cember, 1906, and it is alleged that on September 21, last, the wife deserted her husband and took her child. Without asking for a divorce the husband avers that it will be for the best interests of their child that the mother surrender him.

THE INFERIOR COURTS. TERDICT FAILS IN POKER CASE

ONLY FIVE JURORS STAND FOR VOGEL'S CONVICTION.

City Treasurer of Santa Monica. Must be Tried Again in Connec-tion With Marked-cards Scandal. Case Against Trustee G. M. Jones Dismissed.

Twelve men in Justice Austin's court could not agree concerning the guilt or innocence of P. W. Vogel. City Treasurer of Santa Monica, charged with playing "stud" poker in the famous game wherein Jasper Thomason, a ranchman, is alleged to have been fleeced of $300 by the use of marked cards in the hands of prominent Santa Monica men on the night of May II last.

Voge'l trial was the second of the series. Thomason having been previously acquitted. When the jurors finally agreed to disagree after remaining out three hours, they stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction.

seven for acquittal and five for conviction.

Vogel is charged with having "sat in" a game of "stud" poker in the Holborow Hotel, together with J. C. Steele, a Santa Monica City trustee: J. G. Holborow, proprieter of the Holborow Hotel; Jasper (or "Goats") Thomason, and G. M. Jones. The question of marked cards did not enter into the trial of Vogel, he being charged only with a misdemeanor. The trial of the case was transferred from Santa Monica to Justice Austin's court because it was claimed that a fair and impartial hearing could not be secured in the Seaside City.

morning at $ o'clock, when a date for a future hearing will be set.

The question of sufficient corroborative evidenc: was the lissue in Vogel's trial, and the attorneys fought out the battle along this line. Vogel was represented by Atorneys Earl Rogers and W. H. Anderson, who also appeared for Thomason at his trial several weeks ago. Prosecuting Attorney Taft of Santa Monica appeared for the prosecution.

mann Was Allowed to Take Knife Into Cell.

Mrs. George W. Reithmann, wife of the man who committed hari-kari in the City Jall, has been making an investigation on her own account of the carelessness displayed in searching her husband for weapons when he was locked up as crasy. Mrs. Reithmann says she had not lived with her rusband for several months, on account of his love for liquor, but it seems incomprehensible to her that a demented person should be allowed to take a knife into a cell with him.

Coroner Trout will hold an investigation today at Bresse Bros. morgue, when the facts in connection with the searching of Reithmann by Patrolman O'Brien will be probed. Reithmann's hody probably will be cremated and the ashes sent to Denver, where his father, G. J. Reithmann, a wealthy wholesaie druggist, resides,

Morris, Yeager and Blute Will Ship Next Week from New York, and Others After Bennings Meet-ing—Ten Cars of Racers to Come

Sais will not be in Blute's string this year, for this very consistent good one was claimed out of a selling race at Jamaich last week and it was good-bye to Blute. Sais was one of the best and most reliable performers the sports in this city ever saw, for he was in about twenty races and was never unpiaced. He ran against all kinds of good horses and held his own with a large majority of them.

Benny Benjamin, the genial knocker, is back from Kansas City taking in entries for Tom Williams' track at San Francisco and apparently is doing quite well, for he sends word that he has 356 entries. Thirty of these are for the Burns handicap, 25 for the Andrew selling stake, and 25 for the California Derby. The complete list will be ready for publication early next week.

Bookmaker George Rose is due here tomorrow from the East to attend a meeting of the Ascot Park directors, which will be held Tuesday afternoon. It is said he is so much in love with the climate of Los Angeles that he will buy a house in this city and live here every winter.

Col. Black's poolroom out on Central avenue had a bad scare on Thereday over the first race at Worth on that day, and it is said that the pikers took away some easy money after the race. A tip came here on Coblet's Bay one-two-three, and Beautiful and Best straight, and the first bet the room took was from a local sport who played the Bay $50 straight and $50 a show on the opening odds of 20-8-4. This price was cut quick, but still the pikers went to it, and those that were kissed off on account of the heavy play took. Beautiful and Best straight. The house stood to lose $4000 if Bay won, and although he led into the stretch by three lengths he lasted-long enough to finish third, Beautiful and Best winning. This winner was here last winter.

The dam of Sweet Marie, the trotter of the year is now owned by J. C. Adams of Phoenix. Ariz. She is becare's Mambrino, and running in the same pasture with her is her two-year o's son, a full brother to Sweet Marie. He should be a very valuable colt on his breeding alone without the reputation of his big sister.

Snyder McGregor, who has made a trotting record this year of 2:07%, was sold again as a yearling for $20, and he has probably won twenty times that much this year.

Madam Marantelle, the well-known horsewoman, made a new world's record last week at Kalamasoo, Mich., by sending the jumper St. Patrick over the sticks raised to a height of 7 feet, 10% inches. This is clearing the high spots with a vengeance.

The presiding judge at Hot Springs this winter will be Judge Murphy, who is now at Delmar. From there he will go to Bennings and then to the Springs.

E. R. Bradley is to send a number of his racers here this winter, including the crack Bad News: the balance of his winter string will go to New Or-leans.

Game Called Off. The football game that was scheduled for today at Riverside between the High School elevens of Riverside and Santa Ana has been called off on account of the crippled condition of several of the Santa Ana players. Fulf-back Collins had his ankle injured in the game with Rediands last Saturday and still limps badly. Wilson, one of the tackles, is sick in bed and as no suitable substitutes can be found for these two men, the game has been postponed with the consent of the Riverside team.

SAYS JEFF MAKES MONEY.

George Miller, the long-time bosom friend of Champion Jim Jeffries, has returned to this city from an extended trip to the north with his health apparently much improved by the change of climate. Of course, he says that Jeff is the only man that ever tried to fight and Corbett. Munroe, Fits and thousands of others think the same way, Miller says that Jeff is doing a big business in the show line and that the champ thinks acting is better than fighting anyway, because there is more money in it. Jeff's show has started hast over the Central Pacific route and has the booked for six months ahead and barrels of money in sight. Naturally the big fellow won't take on Jack Johnson because the fight would not draw as much as Jeff can make in two months on the road as an actor. Doyle second, Mary Primm third; time 1:01%.

U.S.C. TEAM'S WEIGHTS.

Coach Holmes weighed his men yesterday, and found that with "Big" Miller and Bickford out of the line that the U.S.C. team would average about 160 pounds to the man. The genial professor gives out the following weights, some of which provoke wonder as to which leg Holmes sawed off. Football coaches are as chary of telling the exact weight of their men as spinsters their age. The U.S.C. weight: Johnston, right end, 147; Webb, right tackle, 172; Brown, right guard, 174; Thompson, center, 176; Runyon, left guard, 164; Elliott, left end, 140; Geguette, quarter, 184; Acker, right haif, 165; White, left haif, 140; De Lappe, full-back, 167, U.S.C. plays Occidentaion the U.S.C. campus.

And furnish it with dreams,
I'd live just like a millionaire
And cut out all saving schemes.

I'd be a knight of hoe and rake
And have a costly home.
If I could dreas me with a wish
And feed myself with thought,
I'd dine upon a costly dish
And never lack for aught.
If I could pay my bills with guff

J. Bryan expressed some ideas of political ethics which serve in a degree to explain, from his own point of view, his "reasons" for supporting

RIZONA-STATEHOOD SENSE.

A Many moons agone, The Times remarked that the continuous-per-formance Statehood agitation in Ari-zona was not kept up for the real benefit of the Territory, but was a po-

Great Britain could not afford to proceed egainst Russia without a full knowlof the truth. The civilized i could not afford to stand idly by and witness the beginning of another devastating war without asking the ball existed.

The Hague court will clear away all doubts in the premises by bringing to light the essential facts of this deplocable effair. Vice-Admiral Rojest-vensky's report puts the matter in an altogether different light than that in which it was placed by the first dispatches. If it be shown that his sense justifiable, and the injury in-flicted upon the fishing fleet was in-cidental, and therefore accidental. county and Prescott in particular and go on listening to the politician talking Statehood. I venture to say that n ither the farmer nor those engaged in commercial pursuits throughout the Territory are lying awake nights for fear that Statehood may not come this year or next. Of course joint Statehood is not to be considered for a minute, and I don't think there is a single man in the Territory, who is informed on the subject, that believes there is any danger of joint Statehood being thrust upon us, now that the truth is known, no matter what might have been the conditions a little while ago. Why, then, forsake all else of benefit and follow blindly the wishes and whims of the politician? One of the most encouraging signs of the campaign in Arisona is that Professional Candidate Mark Smith's only reply to the speeches of George H. Maxwell consists in abuse of Maxwell. Yet no one, Smith included, ever has asserted that, as far as Arizona is concerned, Maxwell has ever done anything but good. His offending lies in the fact that he has chosen to go into the Southwest to assist in the election of B. A. Fowler, another man whose work for Arizona is worthy of recognition. Maxwell is not a candidate. work for Arisona is worthy of recog-nition. Maxwell is not a candidate. His private character is not a fit mat-ter for discussion or dissection on the Arisona stump. Yet, though Candidate Smith's character lies open for the sharpest criticism, Maxwell's references to him have been uniformly courteous. Smith's noisiest how is that Maxwell is in ratiroad employ. There is unadulterated gall in this, for Smith's succeptibility to Espee influences is notorious.

Among the many good men who are deserting the Democratic party at the present appropriate juncture, we note with pleasure the conversion of a gen-tleman named Dewey. It may be re-membered that he is connected with the navy, in some way or other, and at one time paid a short visit to a place called Maniia Bay.

"Now as to single Statehood—who is it that is making the most talk about it? If my observation serves me correctly it is the politicians who want office, and must have something to present the voters that will afford them an opportunity to display their imaginary patriotism and exhibit their wonderfully superior intelligence on State questions. We should not be tooled, Statehood, single Statehood, will come to us in due time, and with B. A. Fowler in Congress our chances for getting all we are entitled to are a thousand times better than if we continue to keep Mark Smith there.

The opening of the "Subway" in New York reminds us that in order to re-lieve the congestion on the streets of Los Angeles we'll soon have to be building the same kind of things here. THE BOSTON DRY GOODS STORE Opposite City Hall, Los Angeles

For this Saturday's selling we have arranged another assortment of Misses' Suits, and will place them on sale at less than the actual cost of the material used in them.

> Special Sale of Misses' Suits

The only reason for our reducing the price on this large line of suits is because we have more than we can handle just at present in a regular way. They are strictly firstclass garments and are tailored just as carefully as the best ladies' suits, and are all made of excellent materials. They are in sizes for 10, 12, 14 and 16 years.

$15 Suits at $5

We have divided the assortment into two lots. The first lot consists of suits that sell regularly at from $8 to $15 each. We will offer them today at, your choice, $5.

$17.50 to $35 Suits at $10

The second assortment is composed of suits that are sold regularly at prices ranging from $17.50 to $35 each, but you may choose among the assortment today at only $10 each. You will find a large variety of styles in this lot, including some of the best suits for this season's Quilted silks and satins are very stylish for lining opera coats. Our stock is large, the qualities are good, and the prices are attractive. Investigate when at our Lining Department.

"Nay, but let me go," Masanath begged. "Where are my servants? Came they not after me when I fied?" "None followed thee, Lady, and thy raft went adrift."

"Let me out of this hideous place then, for I must seek them. They may be dead."

Her tone was imperious and Rachel, silently obedient, led her to the entrance and pushed aside the door. Instantly the terrible turmoil over Egypt smote upon her ears; next she saw the Nile, moving slowly, black where its clear surfaces had been green, scariet and froth-ridden where the sun had shone upon transparent ripples and white foam; after that, 'the strange oder came to her, recalling the smell of the altars, but now magnified till it was overpoweringly strong. She sickened and turned away.

The Modern Courtier.

The Modern Courtier.

The duties of an "equerry-in-walting." put as concisely as possible, are: To make his royal master's life as smooth and easy as possible; to be discreetly sympathetic with him in sorrow and in joy; to save him, so far as it is humanly possible, from the trouble of thinking for himself; to know and have committed to memory the characteristics and family history of all persons who are worth the notice or friendship of the royal patron; to have ready at finger tips the truth of all scandals and gossip in the elect circle in which he moves; and to be, in a quiet and gentlemanly manner, surprised at nothing.

It has been said that an equerry must not look bored, yet a casual sorutiny of the faces of those who have been long in office betrays the fact that nature, after all, asserts her power over artificiality, however hard the striving may be to circumvent her. One of the most surprising facts regarding royal persons is that apparently they never tire of the one particular set who surround them at home, and whom they ask to meet them abroad. Royalites choose whom they will receive and whom they will meet. Possibly their attendants are of a more unstable mind, and weary for the same old faces which they once knew young. Hence the jaded, weary look so often observable as a settled mask on the countenance of the courtier.—[Chambers's Journal.

CUILTY, MURDER, J SECOND DEGREE.

JURY RENDERS VERDICT IN THE HEART CASE.

Curious Scenes Attend the Closing Hours of the Trial—Arguments of Counsel Consume a Whole Day. Widow of Slain Man Becomes second degree was rendered by the jury at 10:15 o'clock last night in the be pronounced next Tuesday morning.

The arguments of counsel consumed the whole of the day yesterday, and Deputy District Attorney McComas did not begin his closing address until

Some of the oddities that marked the arguments were altogether peculiar to this trial, and one of the attorneys for the defense presented an extraordinary spectacle, while addressing the jury, that, it is safe jo say, will never be repeated.

Attorney Ladd has been suffering from a bronchial affection throughout the trial, and he put a throat sprayer to a very constant use day by day. Not infrequently he would not gauge the distance well and the spray would fly over his face instead of going where it would do most good. Yesterday when he argued to the jury he did so with a teapot on the table close by. A teapot is a rather tame accompaniment to a murder trial, but it contained neither a good brew of tea nor a comforting decoction of whisky—something that at times finds its way into the teapot. Mr. Ladd gained solace and inspiration from hot milk, and as he warmed to his argument he accentuated his remarks with a glass of milk held in his outstretched hand.

The attorney put too great a strain upon himself, for presently he became hoarse as a crow, and his coughing was almost incessant. But he was going to have his say to the end and in his own way. When he had completed to his satisfaction a survey of the facts that he took it indicated that Kerns was the aggressor, and that he threatened Heart with a knife, he reached the climax of furious denunciation. He raged up and down in front of the jury scarcely able to artichuate, and when he began to quote scripture he collapsed.

"The good book says he that uses the sword shall perish by the sword," he cried with arms of stretched; "that's the law, that's the gospel; it's good—good—good," and gasping out the words he fell down in the chair with which he had been accommodated, and from which he had arisen in the excitement of his address.

Barly in the day the scene had been too much for Mrs. Kerns, widow of the murdered man, and she was led weeping bitterly from the courieroum.

The defendant, J. W. Heart, and his wife were self-possessed enough, although the, forme Thrilling Experience of Mrs. R. M. Hill During Absence of Nurse. Screams at Last, but Not Even that Scares Bearded Ruffian, Who Finishes at Leisure.

Too sick to arise from her bed and raise an alarm, Mrs. R. M. Hill of No. $40 West Thirty-seventh street re-mained quiet early last evening and watched a burglar go through her rooms and continued his search in a leisurely manner.

Finally summoning all of her courage, Mrs. Hill screamed, but the burglar paid little attention to her outcry, merely giancing into the room at the helpiess woman on the bed.

The burglar continued runninging and secured a gold watch and $17.50 from a purse lying on the dresser.

After thoroughly ransacking and searching the entire house the cool thief walked leisurely from the house.

The case was reported to the police immediately after the nurse returned, and detectives were sent out on it.

government, ride, in triumph through our streets with 19,000 Republican captives chained to his charlot wheels. How has it happened? It has been brought about by Reoublican leaders whom we trusted betraying us and trading us off like so many cattle. "Let the Republican party arise today—yes today, and defy these traitors who ruthlessly betray their party and their city and their friends. "Now, fellow Republicans, you need to preside over a convention having these important duties, a man who is able and fearless, who commands the confidence of all. It is my privilege to nominate such a man for temporary chairman in the person of California's young Demosthenes. John G. Mott." Cheers greeted this nomination, and it was made unanimous. Guided by Dr. Lindley and Bradner W. Lee, Mr. Mott ascended the platform and received from Chairman Youngworth the gavel of mathority.

Mr. Mott tossed off a few epigramatic resnarks which the delegates greeted with alternate laughter and applause. Then he hastened to the business of the sesson. John Wright, secretary of the City Republican City Central Committee, was elected temporary secretary and the customary fifteen minute adjournment was taken to give the chairman an opportunity to mane committees.

Then came the nominations.

Will D. Stephens placed in nomination Sidney A. Butler, the choice of the Citisens' Committee.

Mr. Stephens said:

SPEECH OF MR. STEPHENS.

"I appreciate the honor of being allowed to speak before this convention today. I regard it as a further honor to be able to place in nomination just an ordinary business man celected by 100 of the very best business men of this city.

"They selected a man whom they knew could in every way best fill this office—they selected the man who measured up best.

"He is a man of whom you and I—every man of us—might be justly proud to have for our Mayor.

"The daily papers—and there are none better in the United States—and the politicians of our city had been asking for a man fitting to take this office. Man after man had refused.

"Then, this large number of business men were asked to come together and make a selection.

"Many names of good men were brought up.

"He's all right."
"Whose all right?"
"McAleer."
"Gentiemen, I have been forestalled in naming my candidate—Owen Mc-Aleer."
And in the demonstration that followed the First Ward led all the rest.
Responding to cries for "Butler," the citizens' candidate made his way to the rostrum, bowed to the delegates and thanking them for their courtesy retired.

McAleer followed him, thanking the delegates for the courtesy conferred on him and promising, in case he was nominated, to give the opposing candidate the fight of his life.

FIRST BALLOT.

The Third, Fourth and Fifth wards you allowed almost as a unit for Butler; the First went solidly for McAleer, the Feeond was divided. Division also came in the Sixth. The Seventh was solid for McAleer, but by some strange freak of political fortune the Eighth Ward machine voted almost as a unit for Butler. The tally clerks keptinght at the heels of the tellers, and by the time the Ninth: Ward ballots were in the box the others had been totaled and Butler led by half a dozen votes.

The McAleer men commenced to cheer lustily. They rested secure in the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the discertion of the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the discertion of the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the discertion of the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the discertion of the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the discertion of the promise o

The McAleer men commenced to cheer lustily. They rested secure in the promise of the bosses of the Ninth Ward machine that the dilegation would go for McAleer. And it did, almost to a man. This gave McAleer the nomination with twenty votes to spare; the official vote being: McAleer, 335; Butler, 315.

The nomination was promptly made unanimous.

The nomination was promptly made unanimous.

Then Clan McAleer sounded the pibroch and cheered for its chief. As soon as the result of the ballot had been announced Butler thanked the delegates from the platform for the support they had given him. There was not a touch of resentment in the tone of his voice.

When in conclusion he said: "You have nominated a strong candidate, one to whom I feel that I can pleadge the support of every delegate who has voted for me today," the whole convention rose and cheered. It was the cally real demonstration of the convention.

City Attorney Mathews was renominated by acclamation.

WERDIN'S VICTORY.

The contest for the nomination of Street Superintendent was expected to be the main event of the convention. It proved to be a decidedly tame affair. Almost every delegate in the hall knew that Werdin had the nomination with handfuls of votes to spare. George P. Adams in placing Werdin in nomination brought down the house, by a slip of the tongue in which he referred to Werdin as "my client." John Drain and Guy Woodward were placed in nomination and again the recert ballot was on.

The first sixteen ballots tallied stood Werdin, 12; Drain, 2; Woodward, 1. Werdin made an almost clean sweep of all the precincts cast of Main street, together with the Second Ward. Drain carried the Third Ward and divided with Woodward a majority of the delegations from the Fourth and Fifth wards. The first result was: Werdin, 427; Woodward, 111; Drain, 106.

One delegate of unique interest was "Chowder House Jim."

James, about three months ago, was one of the savagest ward captains of the Democratic Iroquois Club. There the Democratic Iroquois Club, There he was calling weekly upon the Iroquois braves to turn out to the political slaughter of the Republicans.

About the time that the Royal Arch liquor dealers mixed up in Republican politics, James suddenly saw a great light.

Another delegate of distinction was Kid Solomon, the lightweight pug. Unaware of whom they entertained, Unaware of whom they entertained, everybody builied Mr. Kid in a manner simply shameful.

There weren't seats enough: Kid was one crowded out. He meekly took a kindergarten chair.

A sergeant-at-arms galloped down upon him.

"Here, you can't sit there," he said.
The Kid mentally measured the distance to the point of the gentleman's chin, then turned with a sigh away.

CENTRAL COMMITTEE. NEW BODY MEETS TODAY.

The new Republican City Central Committee, whose members were elected at precinct caucuses held yesterday, will meet in the Republican League rooms, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, to elect a chairman and select subcommittees on executive, law, finance, campaign, advisory and auditing.

Werdin's friends wanted to make the nomination unanimous, but the delegates who had voted against him would not stand for it. The Street Superintendent's fight had been a bitter one and they were not yet prepared to declare a general amnesty.

Then followed the nomination of Harry Lelande for City Clerk; Louis Schwaebe for City Auditor and John S. Meyers for City Treasurer, by accidamation.

An attempt was made to keep the delegates in their seats until the nomination for City Assessor could be made, but Wismer's supporters proved to have better lung power than the other fellows and on a viva voce vote adjournment was taken until 7:39 o'clock in the evening.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION WILL BE TAME AFFAIR.

Trouble Ahead for McAleer, Werdin, Myers and Lewis—Other Republican Nominees Will Probably Receive, Democratic Indoresment.

Probable nominees of today's Demo-cratic City Convention as indicated by wagers placed last night: Mayor—M. P. Snyder.

City Cierk—C. H. Hance./
City Treasurer—W. H. Workman.
Street Superintendent—James Craig.
Council—First Ward, F. M. Nickeli;
Second Ward, John Falconer; Third
Ward, J. E. Murray; Sixth Ward,
George Passall; Seventh Ward

There was great rejoicing in the Democratic ranks last night over the results of the Republican City Convention. Action taken by a committee Thursday afternoon indorsing E. R. Wismer for City Assessor was promptly repudiated. Today there will be a number of candidates for nomination as City Assessor.

Evan Lewis looks easy to the Democratic leaders.

Mayor Snyder's renomination is practically assured, although indications last night were that it would not come by acclamation. Kern has thrown up the sponge, but Councilman Farish is insistent on placing the delegates on record.

the sponge, but Councilman Farish is Insistent on placing the delegates on record.

Disregarding "El Hutch's" threats to spilt the conventiou wide open if he is not made chairman, the ward captains last night practically decided to give the chairmanship to R. F. Del Valle. George I. Cake will probably be selected as chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee.

City Attorney W. E. Mathews will have no opponent on the Democratic cicket. Pollowing the good exampleset by the recent Prohibition convention the Democrats will pass resolutions indorsing the City Attorney.

Tax Collector Johnson will meet no symed opposition from the enemy. If some Democrat wants to make a campaign contribution in return for the honor of having his name on the ticket, he will receive the nomination for Tax Collector; otherwst no nomination will be made.

No Democrat had been found last night who was willing to make the race for City Engineer against Harry Stafford but it was asserted that this nomination would not be permitted to go by default.

City Auditor Schwaebe will probably receive the endorsement of the Democratic convention.

An attempt was being made last night to induce James Hanley to withdraw from the race for Street Superintendent. It was reported that if he would get out of the fight he could have a nomination on the new Board of Public Works, provided Snyder is received.

John C. Ince is still a factor in the race for Street. Superintendent.

by acclamation. Democrats are more ready to wager their money on his election than on that of any other candidate on the ticket, the Mayor himself not excepted.

A few reckless Democrats hast night grew so jubilant over the defeat of Sidney A. Butler, the citisens' candidate, for the Republican Mayoralty nomination that they offered to lay wagers at the odds of two to one that Snyder would be reelected.

The odds were posted at a Spring street cigar stand. Finally a First Ward Republican saw the offer. He rustled up enough McAleer money to back the Snyder sports down to odds of 10 to 7, on Snyder, Later Snyder money began to pour in and the odds of two to one were restored.

Martin Marsh has been converted and is posing as a good government man. His present hobby is the endorsement of the Clitisens' ticket for the Board of Education. He thinks that such an endorsement would lend strength to

The Municipal League framed its request to the Democratis as follows:

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

By William T. Ellis.

A rich man famous as a philanthropist is credited with the remark that it was giving his first dollar that was hardest. The second was easier still, and soon it became easier to give than to withhold. This is the story of giving in a nutshell. The gift reacts upon the giver. Enlarging bounty enlarges the heart. "The liberal soul shall be made lean.

Love is always measured by giving. As seeking is the sign of selfahness, so giving is the sign of selfahness, so giving is the sign of love. Love finds its joy in ministering. It seeks to give its service, its possessions, it is self. It is not an unfair test to deciare that if we do not give to those whom we profess to love then our love is not genuine. This general law applies specifically to the case of the Christian and his Master. gria at once planned to of the way before proa campaign. Christian and his Master.

Until Jesus is Lord over our purses He cannot be Lord over our lives. When bound to our treasures we are still in bondage to sin.

God's plan for His work in this world is mysterious. This much about it we know—He intends that the work shall be done through His people. Without our help God is hindered. God needs us and He needs our gifts. When we return unto the Lord that which is His withheld from God have withheld greater gifts from us.

The law of the world is self-interest; the law of the kingdom is self-abnegation. The old man looks out first for himself: the new man looks out first for his brother.

SO THEATER IS CLOSED, AND STARS WANDER AWAY.

Dreadful Predicament Rules Stage of New Operahouse at Rediands. War Nurse Made Matron of Lately-finished Hospital—Discuss Bond

REDLANDS, Oct. 28.—The opening of the Wyatt, Redland's new operahouse, depends upon locating a full set of 1180 chairs, which are lost, strayed or stolen somewhere between this city and Los Angeles. The manufacturers in the East promised that they should be in place by October 1, but, like other well-laid plans, the Arisona flood interfered with this one, and the "seating capacity" of the Wyatt was first side-tracked, then mislaid, and finally showed up among the missing. Stars that had dates at Redlands' new theater have come and gone; shows have been booked here, and then been transferred; and as a result everyone connected with the house when importuned for information about the opening, walls: "I do not know," I do not know."

MATRON APPOINTED. MATRON APPOINTED.

The appointment of Miss C. G. Patterson as matron of the recently-completed hospital in this city was announced today. Miss Patterson, who has had a wide experience as matron in some of the larger institutions of the country, has been connected in California with the State Hospital at Agnews, and the California Hospital in Los Angeles. She went to Cuba at the beginning of the Spanish-American War, where she assisted in establishing the United States military hospitals. The opening of Redlands Hospital will be delayed for a week or more.

GETTING EVIDENCE AGAINST AL-LEGED SLAYER.

Love Letters Written to Murderer of Pedro Chavez by the Latter's Wife Are Made Public by the Sher-iff's Office—Trolley Car Injures

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 28.—Santiego Moreno, an ex-convict and alleged murderer, was given his preliminary hearing this morning, charged with robbery, the victim being José Quatte, famous throughout this section as Gov. Waterman's faithful old servant. Moreno has a murder charge yet to face, having been held in jail for weeks while the officers have been alswiy weaving a chain of strong evidence about him in connection with the slaying of Juan Castro, a Castillan musician, whose shockingly lence about him in connection with the slaying of Juan Castro, a Castillan musician, whose shockingly mangled corpse was found last summer in the brush southeast of town. The theory of the officers is that Moreno, who had been just released from Folsom, had enticed Castro into the brush, rendered him unable to defend himself, and then hacked off his head. Next morning, shortly after the corpse was found. Moreno soid an overcoat for 25 cents at a junk shop, and meeting Quatte in the brush, attacked him, knocked him down, and, stamped on his face until he was too much in pain to offer resistance, and then robbed him of 56 cents.

The officers say Moreno in selling the coat and committing the robbery was gathering money to assist him in escaping from the scene of the murder, he having failed to secure any money from the dead man, though the latter was reputed to make a habit of carrying large sums with him.

Moreno was immediately suspected, and when found several days later was at Cucamongs. His shoes were dotted with blood, his clothes stained,

AGUILLA'S LETTERS.

The Sheriff's office has made pub-lic several love letters written to Cla-to Aguilla, the murderer of Pedro Chato Aguilla, the murderer of Pedro Chavez, by the latter's wife, for love of whom Aguilla committed the crime. These letters indicate that Aguilla and the woman had planned to elope, the woman asking Aguilla to send her money to add her in getting away with him. In another letter the woman shows her infatuation and jealousy, and in the third letter she concludes: "We will love each other as long as we desire, if you will only refrain from friendship of your beautiful Guadalupe," meaning the wife whom the prisoner deserted in Mexico.

ENGINEER INJURED.

ENGINEER INJURED. ENGINEER INJURED.
Clarence Patton, employed as engineer by James McNair, a cement contractor, came near being killed by a traction car at Colton last evening. His engine, used for operating a cement mixer, was in position within two feet of the track, and Patton was learning over wiping the machinery when a Traction car whizzed by. The noise of the mixer drowned the clanging of the car bell, so that Patton was ansaware of the, car's approach until struck. He was dragged thirty feet, and painfully bruised.

ORANGE COUNTY MAN SUDDENLY BURIED IN WELL.

Walls Cave in, and His Two Com-panions Save Lives by Clinging to Casing—Mad. Horse Plunges With Man Into Tangle of Barbod Wire. Haunted by Ghost.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 28.—The caving in of the sides of a well on the Cole ranch, two miles northeast of Garden Grove, this afternoon, buried Jacob P. Kindt twenty feet deep under tons of sand, causing his immediate death. Kindt was in the bottom of a pit putting in a cement fleor when the loose sand began caving in, and in a moment he was crushed with the mass of falling dirt.

Two men working with him, James Kindt and Fred Loptein, were at the top of the pit when the dirt began caving, and were saved from a similar fate by clinging to the well pipe. The force of the falling earth was too great for the well casing and the cement work was completely crushed.

Kindt's body was recovered after two hours of incessant digging by a crowd. Coroner Smith was summoned, and an inquest was held at the scene of the accident. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death. Kindt was aged 58. He lived with his wife and two children between Orange and Anabeim. The country where the accident occurred is sandy and treacherous for well-digging. A similar accident happened there at few months age.

TORN BY THE BARBS.

R. H. Cartwright, foreman for the Ahlers & East Ice and Cold Storage company on East Fourth street, almost lost his life at Talbert yesterday by being thrown by a fractious horse into a barbed-wire fence and there trampled upon by the animal until he was fearfully lacerated and bruised from head to foot.

was fearfully lacerated and bruised from head to foot.

Two weeks ago the horse broke from its stable in this city and ran to the peatlands, where it became mixed up with barbed wire and injured so that it was left in pasture to recover. Yesterday Cartwright went after the animal and was leading it along the fence when it plunged, threw him into the fence, and then fell on top of him. In its struggles the horse became hopelessly entangled in the wires, and frantic with the pain of the sharp barbs, made desperate efforts to get free. Cartwright was against the wires, unable to free himself on accunt of the horse, and with each kick of the animals the barbs were sawed back and forth over his legs, until the fiesh in some, places was in shreds, and in one thigh a deep and serious gash was cut. When the horse finally got out it was cut so severely that it will require weeks to recover, and Cartwright was in anguish from his wounds. He was brought home last night and placed under the care of a physician.

Officers encountered a curious case of mental derangement last night in the serson of J. H. Hughes, who applied o Nightwatchman Baker and asked to be locked up over night to keep him safe from the ghost of a woman who was murdered in San Francisco a few days ago. Hughes is an employe of the quartermaster's department. United States Army, and was here last night on his way to San Diego, having in charge a carload of mules for the army post there.

He left San Francisco about the time of the murder of the woman "whose ghost now haunts him," but whether or not he had any connection with the woman or with her murder is a matter of surmise. It is supposed that reading of the affair has unbalanced his mind. to be locked up over night to keep him mind.

Hughes spent the night comfortably in the County Jail under the protection of Sheriff Lacy, and left with his mules on this morning's freight for his destination. The demented man explained that the murdered woman appears to him when he is not protected and torments him with threats of driving him insune or killing him. Aside from this single hallucination Hughes appears in normal health.

DEEP WATER FOR "DAD." Self-respecting citizens of the New-port district are protesting indignantly over the continued existence of what they term "'Dad' Baker's blind pig" at the old Berry ranch on the Newport Mesa. "'Dad' Baker's correct name is Isaiah Baker, and residents of the country affirm that he is dispensing liquors indiscriminately, in open vigilation of the county prohibition ordinance. Even the bibuious of this section have their ire aroused against the old man, not for the reason advanced by the temperance element, but because of the quality of his firewater, which all who have sampled pronounce vile.

which all who have sampled pronounce vile.

The latest cause for complaint against the hoary-headed alleged offender is in the case of Whit Miller, the seventeen-year-old lad who tore down the rural mail boxes and tampered with machinery in two creameries a couple of weeks ago while under the influence of liquor which, it is claimed, he procured at Baker's joint. The boy is now in Los Angeles on the road to State's prison as a result of the act. Ranchers who employ help have frequent cause for complaint on account of the stimulants they say their employes get at Baker's. A demand is being made to have the place closed.

POMONA.

POMONA, Oct. 28.—J. V. Bowman has presented to the Board of Trade for exhibit at the Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles a bunch of sixteen large sweet potatoes grown on a single vine, the whole weighing twenty-six pounds. Bowman has been profitably growing several acres of sweet potatoes on his ranch south of the city. Coyotes are particularly bold in this locality this year and are making daring ravages on many of the private poultry yards. H. O. Henderson, forman of the Dole orange groves north of town, and S. W. Twifford, who live on the Brundage ranch, have each lost about one hundred fine chickens.

WAR ON SIGN NUISANCE, OCEAN PARK, Oct. 28.—This beach OCEAN PARK, Oct. 28.—This beach is starting a war against the numerous "For Sale" and "For Rent" signs that disfigure the houses from one end of the town to the other; several cottages being completely plastered with placards. At the meeting of the Community League last night, J. E. Higbey and A. L. Webster were constituted a committee to confer with the real-estate agents with a view to making a bonize of the placards and keeping them off the houses hereafter forever.
